

Beyond the basics

Making Microsoft Dynamics 365 Business Central your business management solution

Growth requires adaptation

It's electric. You walk into your own office space and feel that jolt of energy—new employees bringing your vision to life, the hustle and grind that validates the effort you've put into your business for so long. You're growing, thriving, bringing in new teams and new tools. You're determined to meet every challenge and keep your business trending in the right direction. But like any current, that electricity must be grounded.

Growth needs a foundation to thrive.

The processes, tools, and resources you've always relied on have to rise with you; they have to adapt to an influx in users, transactions, and data for that growth to continue. There's an understandable loyalty to the tools from those early days, but they can either work with you to advance your goals, or they can create new challenges and slow you down. For an ambitious, growing company, microbusiness accounting solutions are practical allies to keep your "I's" dotted and your "T's" crossed—but they often struggle to keep pace alongside a thriving business.

At some point along the way, every organization has to decide: do you keep doing what you've always done, or do you make a change?

When it comes to your accounting software, you have four options. You can:

Do nothing

Expand your existing tools

Make better decisions

By connecting previously isolated business systems, you can get an end-to-end view of your organization.

Centralized information, real-time reporting, and visualized data in Power BI helps you better understand trends, like inventory status and cash flow, and make more informed decisions about the future of your organization.

This integration empowers you and your team to respond to customer needs quickly, optimize your everyday operations, and share data regardless of your device or location.

A unified solution not only makes accessing this data easier, it also helps keep your reports, analytics, and insights accurate and relevant so your team can take a smarter approach to strategy and execution.

Grow at your own pace

With Dynamics 365 Business Central, you only use what you need, when you need it.

Flexible licensing plans, adaptable business apps, and a scalable database mean you can better manage your growth by adding additional users as the need arrives. Based on a per-user, per-month structure, you can start your service small and adapt your solution as you expand your business.

Automate and secure your processes

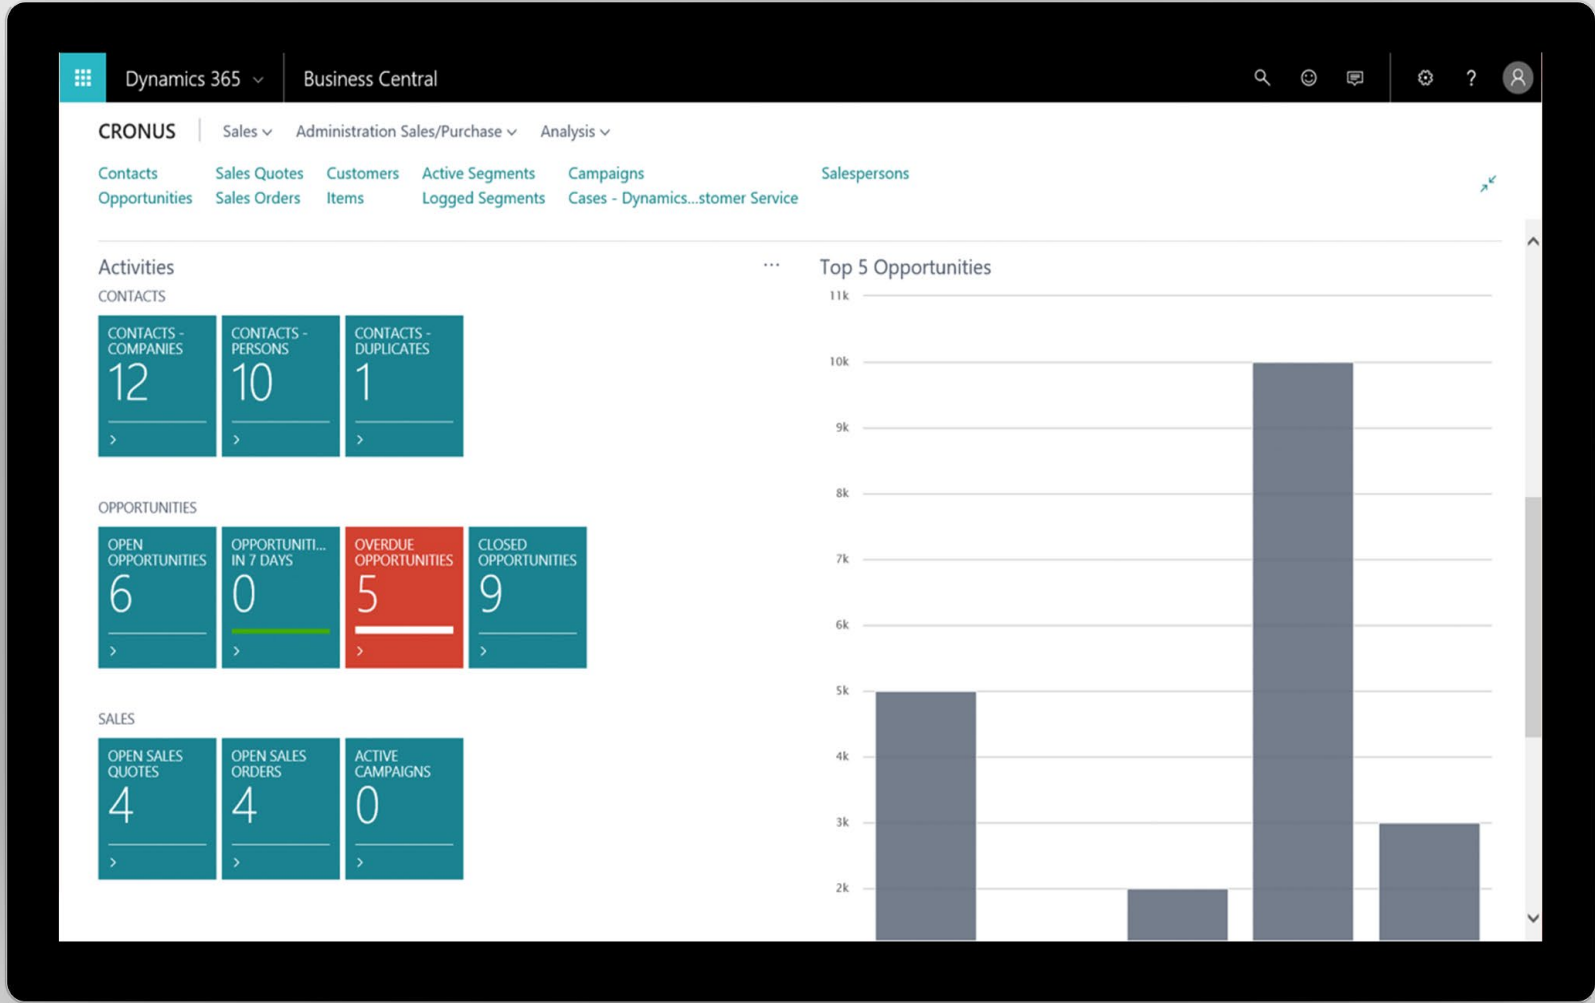

Dynamics 365 Business Central equips your team with secure automation tools that make ordering, selling, invoicing, and reporting easier and faster.

In other words, you can focus on what you do best while easing the burden of monitoring, maintaining, and managing regular tasks.

Fast from the start

Intuitive migration tools within Dynamics 365 Business Central make transferring your internal data quick and easy.

Essential tasks like quoting customers and managing your cash flow won't be disrupted. With Dynamics 365 Business Central's integration into the Office suite, your colleagues can leverage the familiar interface. Office tools, like Outlook, Word, and Excel, help to eliminate extensive training required on new platforms, and drive quicker adoption for employees.
